

BBED NEAR CHURCH: POLICE LAUNCH WITNESS APPEAL SEE I

Snail racing was just one of the activities on offer at a charity fundraiser organised by Sandra Love and Lisa Cottrell.

Giant snails pull in charity funds

TWO friends are celebrating after raising more than £4,000 to help people who are suffering from Alzheimer's.

Lisa Cottrell and Sandra Love organised the special fundraiser at the Memorial Hall, in Church Crookham, to raise money for the Alzheimer's Society and Alzheimer's Research.

Highlights included a bouncy castle, face-painting, soak-a-bloke, an assault course and biscuit decorating.

But the main attraction was a series of snail races held throughout the day.

"The races were fantastic and great fun for everyone," said Sandra. "Our fastest snail of the day completed the race in three minutes eight seconds.

"So many people offered us so much support and it has absolutely made all the hard work worthwhile.

"We'd like to thank everyone who gave their time and contributed so generously to make the day such a success, especially Natta, HSES, SME Invoice Finance and Atlas Insurance Services, as well as the countless companies who kindly donated raffle and auction prizes.

"It was our first time at doing something like this so to raise more than £4,000 was unbelievable."

The friends are still accepting donations for the charities so if you would like to help out, call Sandra on 07958139719 or Lisa on 07515432998. For more details about the Alzheimer's Society call 0845 3000336.
